

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

This device can be attached to the standard tractor blade and converts the tractor blade into a scoop or bucket. This device will increase the utility of a standard tractor by increasing its functions. It will be lightweight and durable and can be easily placed on the tractor blade and easily removed.